

RANDALL O. YOUNG

Vice President
Director of Corporate Services

Randy Young has a broad base of experience in corporate real estate, including development, brokerage and client account management. This diverse background enables him to assist clients with multiple aspects of commercial real estate. Randy uses a team-building approach to assemble the appropriate group of experts, utilizing both internal resources and outside professional service providers, to meet the needs of each individual client within the context of market conditions.

Randy has conducted business with NAI affiliates in 38 states, Canada, Mexico, South Korea, China and Europe. During his work with NAI Global, he has been recognized with the NAI Global President's Award for the Western US, and has been named the NAI Global Top Producer in a major market. He is also a member of the NAI Global Hall of Fame. This past year Randy received the Fitzgerald Award for his work to foster growth of cooperative NAI business. He currently serves on the NAI Global Members' Leadership Board. He additionally serves as a member of the NAI Global Corporate Solutions Team, both domestically and in the EMEA.

Randy joined NAI Norris, Beggs & Simpson in 1993 as the Project Manager for Cornell Oaks Corporate Center, which includes 116 acres with 683,221 square feet of corporate offices, high-tech flex space and service amenities. At Cornell Oaks, he was responsible for development of new buildings, project marketing and supervising tenant relations. For seven years prior to joining the company, Randy was Vice President of marketing and development activities for Birtcher Frank Properties. He has more than 30 years of office and industrial brokerage as well as development experience. Randy earned a B.S. in Finance from Oregon State University and has completed post-graduate study in Project Management at Portland State University.
